

writing, editing & translating

Most cultural projects and events also include textual material in printed or multi-media formats. Our team knows the importance of maintaining high standards in communication as well as targeting the material to specific audiences.

We can provide staff to write and edit

- books
- catalogues
- brochures
- exhibition and display labels
- media releases
- articles
- web sites, and
- much more.

We can also provide the unique service of translating cultural and heritage texts from Dutch to English.
