

cultural treasures days

The University of Melbourne is filled with many exciting museums and collections.

Cultural Treasures Days at the University of Melbourne was a popular success. There were exhibitions, talks, demonstrations, displays, tours, performances and workshops. The event profiled the richness and diversity of the University's 33 cultural collections and museums. There was entertainment, fascination and fun for grown-ups and children across the Melbourne campus. Cultural Connotations developed and managed this celebration for the University.

cultural connotations was engaged to

- develop the programme
- manage the event
- develop and present a family tour of the campus (professor reynard eastley)

venues

the university of melbourne, parkville 18 - 21 september 2008 cultural connotations team

annette welkamp and bernard caleo visit the university collections online