

university of tasmania pathology collection

We have just completed a significance assessment of the R.A.Rodda Museum of Pathology's collection of specimens, archives and historical objects. This important collection is certainly one of Hobart's hidden secrets.